

ABOUT

I am a front-end developer with experience in direct sales. I also like to dabble in creative writing and multimedia editing. Presently I am looking for a new challenge in order to grow my skill set further and help your company grow in the process.

If you are a smaller business or private person looking to make a website, you'll be happy to hear I do freelance work as well.

EXPERIENCE

Freelance | Front-end developer Dec. 2018 – Feb. 2019

Whilst traveling through Thailand I decided to create a template for single page websites. This allowed me to help small local businesses get their first website online without having to invest a lot of money. www.paiparisfrenchbakery.com is an example of a website created through this template.

MyTimo | Front-end developer Aug. 2018 – Nov. 2018

A ticketing-system that combines automatic invoicing/bookkeeping, cashless payments and more. My job consisted out of making custom applications for our customers using Ionic and creating customizable, printable PDF-tickets with HTML and SCSS. www.mytimo.be

Steemitworldmap | Founder Sept. 2017 - Present

I realized travel bloggers didn't have a way to geotag their posts and decided to do something about it. Steemitworldmap is now used by over 2000 people monthly as their go to travel guide. It boasts over 35.000 blog posts and a team of five volunteers! www.steemitworldmap.com

River Jam | Founder Feb. 2017 – Aug. 2017

I wanted to rent out inflatable boats on the rivers in Ghent, Belgium. Due to changing circumstances, I was unable to start. Nevertheless, it was an invaluable learning experience.

SalesForYou | Sales Representative 2014 - 2016

After being noticed whilst working as a student at another sales company, I decided to join this -at the time-, newly founded company. My talent towards sales got sharpened in both retail and B2B. I was offered a management position, but refused to pursue my own ideas. www.salesforyou.be
